
MAP
OF THE
TOWN OF NEWTON
as surveyed by
E. F. WOODWARD AND W. F. WARD,
NOVEMBER, 1831.
REVISED AND CORRECTED BY JAMES B. BLAKE
APRIL, 1848.
Scale 1500 ft. per inch.
The town of Newton the Indian name of which was Nonantum, was incorporated in 1691. Its census in 1810 was 1709 in 1820-1850 in 1830-2377 in 1840-3051, in 1846-3351. This town including one half of Charles River on its border contains 12713 acres. It bounds on the river, calculating as its centre 1 1/8 miles. The Boston and Worcester Railroad runs through the northerly part of the town about 4 miles. The aqueduct connecting the waters of Lake Cochituate with the city of Boston runs through the centre of the town about 5 1/4 miles - 2400 ft. of which is tunnelled. Its public buildings are 8 meetinghouses, a theological seminary established in 1825, an Academy and 11 schoolhouses. Also a normal school at West Newton belonging to the State.
Explanations
Meeting houses
Cemeteries
Saw Mill
School houses
Factories
BROOKLINE ROXBURY WALTHAM
WESTON
NEEDHAM
BRIGHTON
WATERTOWN
NEWTON
NEWTONVILLE
NEWTON CENTRE
NEWTON CORNER
AUBURN DALE
LOWER FALLS
UPPER FALLS
AQUEDUCT
THIS SECTION OF THE TOWN
Containing 1800 acres
WAS ADDED TO ROXBURY IN 1837