I. DECISION TO USE COMPETITIVE SEALED PROPOSALS

The Chief Procurement Officer has determined that in order to select the most advantageous proposal for housing planning services for the City of Newton Planning and Development Department, comparative judgments of technical factors will be necessary. The City believes that the individual(s)/firm serving in this capacity must have a broad range of experience with Planning, Urban Design, and housing development. The RFP process will enable the city to provide higher ratings to consultants whose key project personnel have extensive experience providing similar services to other similarly situated cities and towns, particularly where they have been able to work within local objectives and policies. City of Newton
Newton Housing Strategy

NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION

The City of Newton, Massachusetts seeks a qualified consultant(s) to provide expertise and assistance to the City of Newton Planning and Development Department in creating an operational housing strategy. The selected consultant(s) must have expertise in the theory and practice of local government management, familiarity with the local planning function, and expertise in the development of affordable and diverse housing.

Project Context
A city of approximately 85,000 people adjacent to Boston, Newton benefits from a prime location with good transportation access to the region’s job centers in Boston, Cambridge, and the Route 128 corridor and an excellent public school system. The City also represents an ideal mixture of good community design with a number of historic walkable and transit-oriented village centers, attractive neighborhoods, and beautiful parks. These amenities have made Newton a highly desirable community and, coupled with the strong regional economy, there is a high demand for new residential and business development and a commensurate increase in traffic and related growth issues. The fact that the community is changing under these influences, and will continue to do so as the City’s demographics, transportation choices, and businesses evolve over time, has led to the understanding that the City needs a detailed planning effort, beyond that of the 2007 Comprehensive Plan, that prepares the City for these changes and results in transportation improvements, diverse housing opportunities and a new zoning ordinance that provides fair and predictable control to protect Newton’s essential character and quality of life.

Project Description
New housing development has been identified as a critical regional need in order to accommodate a growing economy, meet the needs of the region’s changing demographic profile, and to provide affordable housing to ensure an equitable and economically diverse community. Housing development can be a complex and difficult issue though, particularly in an inner ring suburban city like Newton where much of the land is already developed such that new development will primarily take the form of infill and redevelopment. With many proposed development projects, the community’s values of being an economically diverse community of opportunity appears to conflict directly with other community values related to the character of the City, with its pattern of village centers, single family neighborhoods, and “Garden City” moniker. The Newton Housing Strategy must offer a framework and guide for navigating these issues, allowing the City to offer the range of housing types it needs while preserving its character and quality of life. Further, the strategy must address the City’s established goal of having at least 10% of its permanent housing stock affordable to low and moderate income households by 2021. This project will include the following tasks by the consultant:

1. Housing Needs and Market Analysis. The first task of the Newton Housing Strategy is to generate a comprehensive analysis of Newton’s housing market compared to the needs of the community in terms of demographic changes, the gap between housing costs and the income of current and potential future residents, and the possibility of accommodating City of Newton employees, teachers, police, and firefighters, to live in the community they serve. The draft report should be made available for public review and comment through posting on the internet and public presentation. The City has been working with the Dukakis Center at Northeastern University on demographic analyses of existing conditions and future trends and the first of these reports is available through the City’s website.

2. Policy & Regulatory Recommendations. Based on the findings of the needs assessment and market analysis, the consultant(s) should generate recommendations for policy and regulatory changes. These should address proposed changes to the Zoning Ordinance, including the inclusionary housing and accessory apartment sections, and other regulations as appropriate. Attention should be given to the fair housing implications of the existing ordinances including the protected classes identified under State and Federal fair housing law and proposed changes identified as necessary. These recommendations should be made available for public review and comment through posting on the internet and general public presentation. In addition, these recommendations should be presented to the Zoning and Planning Committee of the Board of Aldermen, the Planning Board, and the Newton Housing Partnership.

3. Development Site Recommendations. The consultant(s) will engage the public in the proactive identification of sites for development of new housing units, both affordable and market-rate, as necessary to meet the City’s established goal and the housing needs identified in task #1 above. These sites should include specific developable lots as well as areas deemed generally appropriate for new development. To the extent possible and necessary, site identification should include feasibility analyses and general design approaches or ideas. Community engagement will use both public workshop and online approaches and should include a minimum of two public meetings to cover initial site identification discussions and presentation of a final map and associated development details.

4. Finance & Incentive Recommendations. The City is currently able to finance affordable housing development through Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), HOME, and Community Preservation Act (CPA) funds. In this task, the consultant will provide recommendations to maximize the effective use of these funds towards meeting the City’s established affordable housing goal and identified housing needs. The consultant(s) should also identify other possible financing tools as well as other incentives that the City could utilize generally, or in conjunction with task #2. These recommendations should be made available for public review and comment through posting on the internet and general public presentation. In addition, these recommendations should be presented to the Zoning and Planning and Finance Committees of the Board of Aldermen, the Planning Board, and the Newton Housing Partnership.

Comparative Evaluation Criteria - provide documentation demonstrating your compliance with each criterion or reference what page number within your technical proposal this documentation can be found. These criteria are listed in order of priority.

The evaluation of each proposal for Transportation Strategy Consulting Services will be based upon the “Comparative Evaluation Criteria” described in this section. The following scale will be used to rate each evaluation criterion, as well as to determine a composite rating of each proposal:

“Highly Advantageous”
“Advantageous”
“Not Advantageous”
“Unacceptable”

An “Unacceptable” rating in any one of the criteria will eliminate a proposal from further consideration.

EVALUATION CRITERIA

Proposals from contractors who meet or exceed the minimum criteria will be evaluated and rated on the basis of the following comparative criteria. The city reserves the right to ask any respondent to provide additional supporting documentation in order to verify its response.

Ratings of Highly Advantageous (HA); Advantageous (A); Not Advantageous (NA); or Unacceptable (U) will be given to each of the following criteria for each respondent. A composite rating will then be determined. A composite rating of Highly Advantageous or Advantageous may be assigned only if a proposal has received at least one such rating among the criteria listed below.

Purpose of Form

A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to:

1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued).

2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or

3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income.

Note: If a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

Definition of a U.S. person. For federal tax purposes, you are considered a U.S. person if you are:

• An individual who is a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien,

• A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States,

• An estate (other than a foreign estate), or

• A domestic trust (as defined in Regulations section 301.7701-7).

Special rules for partnerships. Partnerships that conduct a trade or business in the United States are generally required to pay a withholding tax on any foreign partners' share of income from such business. Further, in certain cases where a Form W-9 has not been received, a partnership is required to presume that a partner is a foreign person, and pay the withholding tax. Therefore, if you are a U.S. person that is a partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States, provide Form W-9 to the partnership to establish your U.S. status and avoid withholding on your share of partnership income.

The person who gives Form W-9 to the partnership for purposes of establishing its U.S. status and avoiding withholding on its allocable share of net income from the partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States is in the following cases:

• The U.S. owner of a disregarded entity and not the entity.
